Da Tong “YiGuanDaoDi” YunGang Beer Packaging design

Design ideas

In alignment with the new development philosophy and the imperative for high-quality economic growth, the packaging of local brands has garnered increasing scholarly and market attention. This project introduces the "YiGuanDaoDi" series for Yungang Beer, employing Guochao-style illustration as a contemporary visual language to engage younger demographics. The design synthesizes expressive typography, high-impact color schemes, and focalized layout structures, drawing inspiration from universal human emotions as well as the regional cultural heritage of Datong and Yungang Beer. By reinterpreting traditional motifs through a modern lens, the visual system achieves a balance between cultural inheritance and aesthetic innovation, embodying characteristics of personalization, trend-consciousness, and youth orientation. This study not only contributes to the theoretical discourse on packaging design but also underscores the role of design in fostering local cultural industries and safeguarding intangible cultural heritage.

Brand Visual Design

loooong cafe Brand Visual Design

Design ideas

The visual identity for "Loooong Cafe" centers around "pet-friendly" and "handcrafted coffee," blending dachshund and coffee bean elements in a cute doodle style. Inspired by the dachshund 's long body and the playful connection to the brand name "loooong," the design creates a unique and memorable visual symbol. The color palette features warm Maillard tones: copper brown as the main hue evokes the aroma of roasted coffee, creamy white forms a relaxed base, deep red adds vibrant accents, and deep blue is used sparingly to highlight the brand name, echoing the dachs-hund 's traits for enhanced recognition and fun. This cohesive yet flexible visual system builds a warm, distinctive coffee brand that offers both cus-tomers and pets a sense of belonging and relax-ation.

Design ideas

The visual identity for PalmHaven Links resort blends vintage travel aesthetics with modern luxury, drawing inspiration from mid-20th-century travel memorabilia. Featuring hand-drawn palm trees and golf elements in a palette of deep green and antique gold, the design uses textured print effects and classic typography to evoke an understated, "elegantly nostalgic" atmosphere. This creates a cohesive narrative experience that resonates with guests seeking a refined lifestyle.

Creative ideas for calendar design

Design ideas

This calendar features a unique circular interactive layout, deconstructing time elements into rotatable concentric rings. The design emphasizes the cyclical nature of time, allowing users to actively engage by manually rotating the rings to align dates, transforming time from a passive observation into an interactive experience.

Visual Style

The overall aesthetic is clean and modern, blending mechanical aesthetics with minimalist principles. Circular elements symbolize the cycle of time, creating visual harmony, while the design balances functionality and aesthetics for a rational, tech-inspired look.

DLayout Structure

The calendar consists of three concentric rings: the outer ring displays dates, the middle ring shows months, and the inner ring indicates days of the week. Connected by a central pivot, each ring rotates independently, enabling precise alignment of time elements.

Color Application

The color scheme is simple yet harmonious, with deep blue providing a calm, tech-savvy feel and beige adding warmth. The contrasting colors enhance information distinction, while white text ensures clear readability.

Interactivity

The interactive design highlights user customization through rotating concentric rings, turning the calendar into a dynamic participatory tool. Physical interaction boosts engagement and adds a sense of ritual, making date-checking fun.

Practicality

While innovative, the design remains highly functional, with clear, curved text for easy reading. The precise rotation mechanism ensures user-friendly operation, serving as both an art piece and a practical calendar tool.

RIO cocktail packaging illustration design

Design ideas

Rio promotes a "Drink for Yourself" culture, aiming to be a companion in young people's daily lives. The brand particularly resonates with college students who are new to drinking.

The five flavors feature packaging that blends illustrations with Memphis style, each with a unique theme: Lactic Acid in complementary blue and orange for a holiday vibe; Rose Lychee in pink for a fresh, picnic feel; Tangerine Oolong in orange and green for vitality; Passion Fruit in contrasting colors for pursuing interests; and Lemon Black Tea in a blue, pink, and yellow palette for friendly gatherings.

Lipton Fruit Tea

Packaging Design

Design ideas

Lipton tea packaging features flat-style illustrations depicting fruits from the product recipes, using exaggerated forms and vibrant colors that correspond to each flavor while maintaining consistent brightness and purity. Key product information is prominently centered and enlarged to attract attention and enhance persuasive appeal. The design emphasizes brand identity and serialization—unifying diverse product shapes and flavors through consistent visual style, color palette, and layout. While reflecting product characteristics, the packaging adheres to fundamental brand principles, offering various formats including tuck-end boxes, one-time tear-open pouches, drawer-style boxes, gift sets, carry bags, and aluminum tubes to ensure product protection, aesthetic presentation, portability, hygiene, and moisture resistance.
